Subject: Workshop on 'Leaving No One Behind: Towards Universal Social Protection System' during March 27-28, 2023 at V. V. Giri National Labour institute, Noida

Dear Sir/Madam,

I have pleasure to inform you that the V. V. Giri National Labour institute would be organizing a Workshop on 'Leaving No One Behind: Towards Universal Social Protection System' during March 27-28, 2023 at V. V. Giri National Labour institute, Noida

The workshop aims to discuss how diversification of employment and work arrangements have impacted access to adequate social protection. Over the years there has been a growth of global supply chains connecting industries and workers throughout the globe. New technologies and professions have evolved which have been transforming the workplace. All these changes have been compounded by the emergence of the digital economy and automation. Such changing dynamics have resulted in increase of non-standard employment and thereby lower levels of protection to the workers. Recognizing the importance of these challenges, the workshop aims at discussing the gaps in social protection and thereby identifying the opportunities for structural change in order to reduce risks and ensure adequate and adapted policy responses for universal social protection.

I take this opportunity to request you to nominate one representative of your organisation/Institution working in the area of social security for this workshop. As there are limited seats, therefore participants will be selected on first-come-first serve basis based on their experience in the area.

With regards,

Yours sincerely,

(H.S. Rawat)

Administrative Officer

To:

Academics, research scholars, policy makers, representatives of civil society.

AIM

The workshop aims to discuss how diversification of employment and work arrangements have impacted access to adequate social protection. Over the years there has been a growth of global supply chains connecting industries and workers throughout the globe. New technologies and professions have evolved which have been transforming the workplace. All these changes have been compounded by the emergence of the digital economy and automation. Such changing dynamics have resulted in increase of non-standard employment and thereby lower levels of protection to the workers. Recognising the importance of these challenges, the workshop aims at discussing the gaps in social protection and thereby identifying the opportunities for structural change in order to reduce risks and ensure adequate and adapted policy responses for universal social protection.

OBJECTIVES

- Discuss how social protection systems can adapt to non-standard forms of employment,
- Discuss the role of social protection systems in facilitating transitions in labour markets (supporting structural transformation of national economies; multiple employment; transition between employee status and self-employment);
- Facilitating labour mobility through the portability of benefits and social security rights;
- Role of quality care services (child care, long-term care, others) in protecting populations and providing decent employment opportunities, particularly for women.

COURSE PROFILE

Discussion on shaping the future of work by harnessing opportunities of structural change for new and better jobs and reducing risks through a focus on policies for skills development, effective social protection for all, and job quality and identify gaps in social protection resulting in part from the rise in non-standard forms of employment and the growing platform economy as one of the critical challenges that require an effective response.
